 WHAT'S NEW?

Annual Giving is not a new thing around the Trinity campus. If you attended Trinity within the last 18 years, even though you may not have been aware of it, your parents and grandparents were contributing to Annual Giving. Annual Giving provides the funds to make the “extras” happen. This year new white boards and new carpeting will appear in the Primary School courtesy of Annual Giving dollars. But here is what's new – The Trinity Tiger has been recruited to provide motivation to the Trinity community. Two Tiger-o-meters are stationed on campus to show our progress in reaching the goal of $100,000 set by the parent agents. Forty stripes each worth $2,500 are filled in as the campaign progresses. To date, we are up to 24 stripes. Also seen around campus are the “Dollars at Work” sign which point out various campus improvements that have been made possible by Annual Giving gifts. This is your invitation to be a viable part of continuing your alma mater’s tradition of excellence. We thank you in advance for your gift!

 WHO'S NEWS?

The Christmas holidays brought a special gift in the form of an engagement ring to Susanne Tumolo, Trinity reading specialist and former third grade teacher. Susanne and her fiancé are planning a June wedding. Also engaged is Alan Trotty, first grade teacher. Alan and his fiancée are looking forward to a wedding sometime in 2008. We are also eagerly awaiting the birth of kindergarten teacher Joanna Masters’ baby in April.

 DID YOU KNOW?

Newsy Notes from Sr. Catherine continues to share the positive achievements of Trinity students, just as it did in “your day.” This school year’s editions have included “notes” about our student’s participation in the Vocabulary Bee sponsored by Reader's Digest, the Geo Bee sponsored by National Geographic and the Spelling Bee sponsored by the Howard County Library. Also coming up are the St. Jude Math-a-thon, the Science Fair and the Talent Show. Our students are following in your footsteps by giving through service to the community by preparing food for Our Daily Bread, gifts for special needs children and gifts for our men and women serving in the armed forces. Occasionally, someone will even make a gift of her hair, which has grown long enough to be crafted into a wig for an ailing child. Of course, sports achievements continue to grace the pages of "NN". Gymnastics, skating, soccer and hockey achievements are regularly announced. Basketball scores (Tigers rule!) will be making their appearances soon. As is so typical of Trinity today, tradition and technology have merged by making Newsy Notes available in electronic format and emailed to parents.

Upcoming Events – Bull & Oyster Roast – “Let the Good Times Roll!” Mardi Gras!! March 24, 2007 Turf Valley Country Club (21 and over) Check the website for more information <http://www.trinityschoolmd.org/>
